The heat is really on in Pune and also in FLAME! Preparations for July are on in full swing. In addition, various members of FLAME have been achieving new milestones and holding our FLAME flag high.

Himanshoo's Journey Continues....

After creating waves in the South, Himanshoo shifted focus to Aurangabad in Maharashtra. He spent two days there giving seminars on Opportunities in Higher Learning and the FLAME MBA program MBA with a difference. He visited Marathwada Institute of Technology where 100 students attended and People's Education Society's Engineering College where 125 students attended his seminar. He also met with the Principal of North Valley School and introduced FLAME to him.

COGE's Mentoring Program

COGE's fourth and final program for this academic year elicited excellent feedback from the participants. As usual, our dynamic duo, Indira and Veena, made the learning experience for the participants a memorable one. The program received the highest customer satisfaction rating til date. Thanks to Prof. Raghu for his valuable contribution and to Ravi and Vijay for taking care of all arrangements so effectively. Congrats to all on a job well done.

Prasad's U.K. Visit

Prasad traveled to UK to attend the meeting of International Seekers hosted by London International Festival of Theatre (LIFT). He had proposed a new production created by FLAME to be performed at the summer festival 2008 which would be based on the issues of riots and violence in India. The working title of the production is Danganama. It was also decided in this meeting that Project Phakama hosted by FLAME, become a part of the International Phakama Residency, which will be organized before the festival.

A meeting was organized for Prasad with the Director of the International Office at London Metropolitan University. They have organized a VIP dinner in Delhi on 25th March 2008, which will be attended by some vice chancellors, the British High Commissioner, Head of the education department at the British Council, Maharaja Scindia of Gwalior, etc. They have extended a warm invitation to our FLAME Chairman and President to attend the same and to meet the deputy vice chancellor of London Metropolitan University. They are very impressed with YATRA and the FLAME prospectus. They also expressed interest in creating collaborative links with FLAME. So, all in all a very successful trip. Well done Prasad.

Happy Birthday to.....

18th April: Mrs. Suniti Vadalkar
29th April: Mrs. Sandhya Potdar.

New FLAME offices

There have been some changes in the seating arrangements of some our family members. Here is a run down for everyone's information.

Prof. Shingi, Hemendra, Student Counselors, Registrar and Finance are now located at Phoenix Office.

COGE and Admissions Office will now be located at Baner Office. All others will for the moment remain at 'Kedar'.
